HQ-Calendar

Preface

HQ-calendar is a calendar/scheduling application which allows users to create events, sign up for events and comment on events.
The application back end is made with Node.js and PostgreSQL and the front end with React.
Front end is transpiled with Babel so it will work with all modern browsers.

Use case